(1) Information about the Policy/Proposal

(.1) Name of the policy/proposal

Policy for the Assessment of Ambulatory Oxygen in Respiratory Patients

(.2) Is this a new, existing or revised policy/proposal?
revised

(.3) What is it trying to achieve (intended aims/outcomes)?

This policy provides guidance for respiratory teams working within SET for the assessment of ambulatory oxygen. The policy is guided by The British Thoracic Society Guidelines (2015). There is evidence that ambulatory oxygen is effective in Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD). There is some evidence that it is effective in Cystic Fibrosis and diffuse parenchymal lung disease. The role of ambulatory oxygen in other respiratory diseases e.g., bronchiectasis and asthma, remains less well documented but the use in these patient populations is based on expert opinion. This policy should be read in conjunction with the policy for the assessment of long term oxygen in respiratory patients.
