

South Eastern Health
and Social Care Trust

‘Forget-me-not’

Bereaved parents liaison group

Who are we?

'Forget-me-not' is the name of the liaison committee of bereaved parents at the Maternity, Gynaecological and Paediatric wards of the Ulster Hospital. It was set up in 2007 to improve and enhance the experience of parents who have been bereaved through miscarriage, stillbirth, neonatal death or the death of a child.

What do we do?

We meet approximately 6 times a year and have influenced the care provided during the very sensitive time following loss.

We have raised funds to provide memory boxes, digital cameras and special baby blankets and many other items for the use of bereaved parents.

We are always interested to hear the views of bereaved parents. If you would like to attend the next meeting you can contact us by telephone, email or post.

How to contact us

Hilary Patterson
Bereavement Specialist Midwife
Maternity Unit
Ulster Hospital
Dundonald
Belfast

Telephone: (028) 9056 4717
hilary.patterson@setrust.hscni.net

Donations

The 'Forget-me-not' group raise funds to provide items that enhance the care of bereaved parents. If wished, donations can be made to this group. The finances of the group operate separately from the Trust. Contact the Bereavement Specialist Midwife for details.